FRIENDS ADVISE REFUSAL

But Indication Is That Pressure by Coolidge Has Resulted on Him to Give Up His Position to Take One
That May Lead Next March.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 13.—William E. Kenyon of Iowa is believed to have accepted the post of the secretary of the navy in President Coolidge's Cabinet.

After a 45-minute conference with Mr. Coolidge today, Kenyon, on leaving the White House, said he would issue a statement at the afternoon. The President, it was said, also would have a statement.

Senator Borah Idaho, a close friend of Kenyon, was called to the White House today. Kenyon left the purpose of this summons was not known. Kenyon insisted that in the circumstances he could give no indication of the nature of the forthcoming statement.

"Will your statement be issued about the time nominations are sent to the Senate?" Kenyon was asked. "Probably just about that time," he replied.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Judge William E. Kenyon, former senator from Iowa, today will tell President Coolidge whether he will accept appointment as secretary of the navy in Denby's successor. Kenyon, judge of the Eighth United States Circuit Court, has been warmly urged by Mr. Coolidge to accept but some of his friends have advised him not to. Their argument was that while Mr. Coolidge has indicated a great confidence in Kenyon's soundness of judgment, picking him as the man in Denby's place to head the navy in the situation growing out of the oil leasing investigation, Kenyon has everything to lose and nothing to gain.

Kenyon would be giving up a life position to take another which is only certain until March 4, next. The Navy is not in Kenyon's line of work and when he was appointed to head the bench of the late President Harding he indicated a desire to get out of politics for good.

Judge Kenyon arrived at the White House shortly before 10 o'clock and met the President's nurse. He said he probably would make known the decision following the conference if the President did not make the announcement himself.

Kenyon was first suggested as a successor to Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general.

In connection with the question of Daugherty's retirement it was learned today that Senator Borah, leader of the Senate, in an effort to assist the attorney general, may make a speech on the floor of the Senate soon at attacking Daugherty's retention in the cabinet.

FALL ORDERED TROOPS TO EVICT SQUATTERS
ON TEAPOT RESERVE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 13.—Albert B. Fall, as secretary of interior, issued the order on which the Navy Department sent marines to Teapot dome in 1922 to evict "squatters," Theodore Roosevelt, acting secretary of the navy, and Major General John J. Leane told the Senate Oil Committee today.

They recalled how Fall overrode objections of President Harding and a protest of "a friend" of the President against use of armed force.

Leane revealed also that the governor of Wyoming had protested to the President and Senator Leane immediately started a search for this protest, which had heretofore been suppressed.

After Leane had briefly related how he took instructions from Fall concerning what the marines were to do to how he sent Major George K. Shuler with a squad of marines, Roosevelt took the stand.

"Can you add any further light to his story of something the marines to Teapot dome?" Which asked.

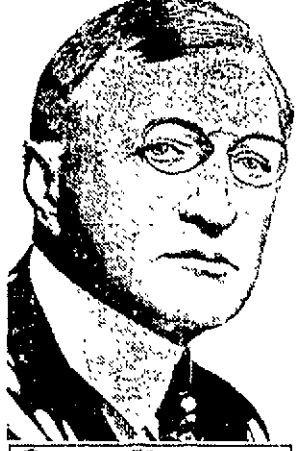

"On July 21, I found a message from Secretary Fall asking me to confer with him. He told me there were squatters on Teapot dome preparing to take out oil. He said he had the President's consent to remove them. He added that he had looked up the legal status of this and that it was all right and that Secretary Daugherty had previously done something like that.

"Fall said the President first objected to sending marines because he had a friend who didn't want it done but later the President agreed."

Roosevelt said he had some correspondence relating to the matter but that it was not important.

"The marines were sent by General Leane," Roosevelt continued, "and that is all that I know about the case."

Denby was away at the time, Roosevelt added in answer to a question. (Continued on Page Two.)

Released on
$2,500 Bail

Fred Grim, convicted slayer of Ralph Goldsboro at Picher, Mo., was admitted to bail of $2,500 today, the bond being furnished by his father, Hiram Grim.

District Attorney E. D. Brown concurred in the action taken by Judge J. C. Van Swearingen.

Grim went home with his father. Attorney H. S. Dunsmuir, counsel for Grim, is preparing to ask for a new trial. Reasons will be filed within 15 days of the time the verdict was returned.

It is understood that one of the grounds for seeking a re-trial will be that the verdict returned was not what a majority of the members of the jury intended it should be. It is said their impression was that the verdict would be involuntary manslaughter, whereas it was announced it was voluntary.

Treasury Points
Way to Possible
Saving in Taxes

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 13.—All hope is gone that an immediate 25 per cent tax cut will get through Congress before Saturday when the first income tax installment is due. President Coolidge last night told a final notice from Republican Leader Longworth that passage of a special resolution providing for the retroactive rebate is "absolutely impossible."

Meanwhile the Treasury pointed out how tax-payers can save 25 per cent of their taxes even if Congress fails to act before March 15. Taxpayers, under the law, are allowed to pay their taxes in quarterly installments. Instead of paying in full, as many taxpayers do, they can pay quarterly or not pay more than three-fourths of their taxes on March 15. In the latter case they would be relieved of the last installment if the reduction becomes effective December 15.

ALTOONA, March 13.—The Somerset county strike and the controversy resultant therefrom between President Brophy and other district officials and Editor Stiles of the Pennsylvania Central News of Crosson occupied the entire morning session of the United Mine Workers annual convention in this district here today.

Following the president's address there was a general discussion in which bitter personalities were indulged in. It is now thought the convention will run into next week.

This announcement was made last evening following receipt of word in Uniontown that the Greene county men would be unable to be present for the meeting.

ELECTION CASE
INTEREST CENTER
IN COURT TODAYJesse Cypher and William Mar-tray Charged With Failing Voting List.

MRS. KERR PROSECUTOR

Jury Given Snook Murder Case
Shortly Before Noon That in Another Negro, Charles Allen of Edinburgh, Called by Van Swearingen.

Interest in criminal court in Connellsville today centered in the trial of the case of Jesse A. Cypher and William Martray who are charged by Mrs. Mary Jane Kerr with the failure to register voters prior to the election last fall. Cypher and Martray are active in affairs in the Sixth Ward, Connellsville.

Mrs. Nellie Fisher, formerly a worker in the ward, was on the stand during the forenoon today. Her testimony was intended to prove names had been written into the voting lists by Cypher and Martray. She testified she was familiar with their actions, having seen each of them on the greater part of the forenoon going over lists, identifying names alleged to have been illegally entered by the defendants.

It was considered probable the case would last all of today and part of Friday. Some 20 to 30 Connellsville men and women will be called as witnesses. When time came for adjournment last evening at 5 o'clock, the judge decided on account of the feeling in the case and the importance of the jury should be kept in the custody of the sheriff for the night. That action was impossible as the jury quarters in the courthouse were being occupied by a homicide case and there were no hotel accommodations in the city available. The members of the jury were permitted to go to their respective homes, but admonished to not discuss the case with any one or permit any person to talk to them about the matter being pending.

The snook murder case—that in which Charles Adams, colored, was tried for the murder of Horner (Kerr), also colored, February 11, was given to the jury in Uniontown at 11:15 today.

Immediately afterward Judge Van Swearingen ordered a jury summoned in his third murder case of the term—that in which Charles Allen, colored, is charged with having killed John Lark at Edinburgh December 31. Lark was a negro.

FORMER LOCAL FAMILY
LOSES ALL IN FIRE
SWEEPING APARTMENT

The household goods of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Whirl, formerly of Connellsville, also all their clothing, were completely destroyed Tuesday morning a week ago when fire broke out in an apartment building at Greentown in which they reside. The blaze was discovered shortly after 1:30 o'clock and had gained such a headway that Mr. Whirl and daughter, Miss Isabel, and son, Robert, who were confined to their beds because of illness, and other members of the family barely escaped with their lives.

Mr. Whirl, who is a member of the police force at Glasgow, is a former Baltimore & Ohio passenger conductor in Connellsville. Mrs. Whirl is a sister of Mrs. W. R. Sailer of West Apple street.

Alumni Aiding in Financing Fund for Ball Game Tonight

High School students, assisted by some members of the alumni, were making a final drive this afternoon to secure money enough, through the sale of "Don't Move on" tags, to defray the expenses of the Connellsville Pioneers' team to Pittsburgh. The alumni organization is giving its services free and will play in the football section at the Monessen-Connellsville clash in the semi-finals of the W. P. L. A League title series tonight.

The tags are being sold for whatever the purchaser wishes to give and so great is the enthusiasm at over the color change, it is believed the proceeds will not be enough. The alumni will give the proceeds of the game to the Pioneers.

A little over 100 if not necessary had been turned in this morning. One $5 contribution was received last night and many are paying the daily for their tags. It is the desire to have every ticket holder at the game wearing a tag.

If Connellsville's football players are as fast as they are today in automobiles for the day, Tuesday in automobiles for the day. That proposition depends on the willingness of our citizens to make the trip and take the volunteers as their passengers.

Two extra coaches were added to Train No. 69 on the Baltimore & Ohio this morning. All were filled and word was sent about to put additional ones on at points farther west. Most of the passengers were persons going to Pittsburgh for the game.

Government Asks
Cancellation of Teapot Dome Lease

By United Press
CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 13.—Charging that Harry P. Sinclair and former Secretary of the Interior, Alton B. Fall, conspired to defraud the United States by execution of the Teapot dome lease, the government today petitioned the United States District Court here to cancel the naval reserve contract.

Attorneys Alton Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts appeared before Judge T. Blake Kennedy at 10 A. M. and presented their petition, which made the following charges:

- 1.—Order of President Harding transferring Teapot dome naval reserve was invalid, illegal, and was known to be so by Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior, and Sinclair at the time the lease was made.
- 2.—The order was obtained from the President by Fall on false representation so he could deal with lands not to public benefit.
- 3.—That Fall and Sinclair conspired to defraud the United States by execution of the lease.
- 4.—That negotiation and conclusion of the lease was a private secret.
- 5.—That in contravention to the law, the lease of April 7, 1922, was awarded without advertisement or competitive bidding and as a result the contract was illegal.

6.—That Secretary of the Navy Denby took no part in the negotiations and affixed his signature merely as an attempt to evidence his compliance and exercised no discretion in its making.

7.—That other persons and corporations, among which were the Texas Company, Pioneer Company, E. L. Denby and Leo A. Stack, were defrauded to obtain the lease and Fall denied the opportunity and discouraged bidding.

8.—That Fall, although question was raised as to legality of the lease, refused to take the opinion of the secretary of the interior department of the attorney general.

9.—That Fall secretly communicated with Sinclair in the effect he would not make the lease unless and until Sinclair produced a claim deed to all mining claims asserted to be oil lands. Fall knew these claims were worthless and himself expressed such belief. By connivance Fall and Sinclair arranged for Sinclair to produce the deeds.

Fall fraudulently and with intent to stifle competition said that Sinclair was acting under his advice when he obtained the deed.

Export Figures Show Origin of Shipments.
To serve shippers in the interior particularly in the Middle Western states the Department of Commerce is compiling statistics of exports by states of origin. The department's statistical reports have previously shown only the export ports from which export freight cleared for foreign countries.

Under the new arrangement all goods shipped on through bills of lading, for which the declarations are prepared by the shipper in the interior, will be credited to the interior state of shipment. Goods consigned from interior places to seaboard ports to be there consolidated or reconsigned for export will also be credited to the state of original shipment if an export declaration prepared by the interior shipper showing the place of origin, shipment, is filed at the custom house.

Merchandise forwarded from the interior to the seaboard for export by commission merchants, forwarding or other export agents, and the export declaration prepared by them will in most cases be shown as reported from the port of final shipment and will so appear in the statistical reports.

Airway 7,000 Miles Long

The French air ministry has planned a long-distance air route for the purpose of connecting the world's rich airways from the point of view of the volume of express mails and freight carried.

Promoted by the Société Aeronautique du Sud-Ouest this airway covers a total distance of nearly 7,000 miles starting from Paris and going via Bordeaux, Lisbon, Casablanca, and Dakar across the Atlantic to Pernambuco, Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires in South America, says the London Mail.

In the initial working of the scheme mails and goods will be carried by 25-knot steamers of the Compagnie Sud-Atlantique but designs are already in hand for huge multi-engine aircraft which will make the ocean crossing and enable loads to be air-borne right from Paris to Buenos Aires.

GAS SETS CHURCH AFIRE

Blaze in Old Evangelical Edifice Extinguished Without Great Damage; Methodist Mission Workers of Several Localities Gather in Conference

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, March 12.—What is perhaps the most unusual report ever submitted by Registrar N. J. Silsby is that of the month of February, which is as follows:

Yesterday shortly after noon a gas jet in the old Evangelical Church in Arthur avenue blazed up along the wall and set it on fire. A fire alarm was sounded and the firemen soon had the fire extinguished.

Discuss Missionary Work.
An informal meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of this district was held in the Methodist Church yesterday. Representatives were present from Mount Pleasant, Connellsville, Zare and Scottdale. Miss Collins, a deaconess and conference organizer, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Mary Williams conducted the devotion in the morning and Mrs. Jackson followed in the afternoon. At the noon hour the members of the executive board of the Queen Esther Circle were in guests at luncheon served in the church. The meeting was for the purpose of discussing missionary work.

To Build a Test Dam in the West

Engineers of Europe and America will make a scientific inquiry into the question of dams in the far west to discover the safest and cheapest way to build these dams that are of increasing importance in the development of the power and irrigation plans in the west.

A feature of the undertaking will be the erection in California of a test dam. One contribution of $25,000 toward the cost of constructing and testing this dam has been pledged, according to a statement by the Engineering Foundation.

STEEL INGOT BEING PRODUCED AT RATE OF 47,000,000 TONS

Daily Selling and Buying Maintains Mill Operations; Unfilled Order Showing Better Than Expected.

From The Weekly Courier.
NEW YORK, March 12.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Review will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

Steel production proves to be unreasonably heavy. The official report shows that ingot output in February was at a rate of 17,000,000 tons a year, or materially more even than had been currently estimated while the increase in the rate in two months was just one-third, which is remarkable if not unprecedented.

Quotations are now being made as to which month in the year will prove to be the high one for steel production, and already a few observers have picked February for this distinction. Operations are running strong, however, and March may easily show a 49,000,000-ton rate, which was the record made last year by April.

There is active selling and buying of steel every business day, this being necessary both to maintain mill operations and to supply consumptive requirements, for consumers are indisposed either to carry stocks or to make forward commitments.

The United States Steel Corporation's increase of 114,472 tons in unfilled obligations in February made a better showing than had been expected in some quarters, owing to the fact that heavy shipments in all lines and in all parts of the country could not be matched by fresh selling since the business had already been done. Shipments were made in tubing goods and in freight car materials, while in the case of some second quarter contracts business was entered in the heavy rolled products.

Published steel prices are moderately steady taken as a whole but there are not many lines in which there are not occasional concessions. In black and galvanized sheets, which are a staple of the business, a 33 centation is quite common.

Pik iron continues to give a picture of itself and recent fluctuations suggest that more second quarter iron was bought when prices were below the present level than is thought at the time.

The Toughest Old COUGH

Can Now Be Stopped

Lingering coughs the kind that hang on and hang on and on a man of his shop, the kind that makes him nervous and all worn out.

Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of glue.

The quickest and surest way to get rid of a persistent cough is to take a teaspoonful of Broncholine four or five times a day.

It is made to stop the old-timers the tough ones, and it does it without any loss of time.

And, remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It is a prescription for stubborn coughs and that is the kind it speedily conquers.

For ordinary coughs one or two doses is usually enough. Union Drug Co. can supply you.—Advertisement.

Desert Hero Learned Marriage Was Subduing

Mrs. Rosita Forbes, English nurse, who recently paid a visit to her native haunts in Halsai, Morocco, a bandit chief, who told a curious story in the New York Times. A story concerning the way a desert Romeo was tamed, and how he was made wine in the taming.

The Romeo, a big strong and handsome tribesman, rode a better shot better and was just about a better man all around than his fellows, when one day the sheriff, Rashid, thought he would confer a favor upon him in recognition of his prowess. The sheriff asked him what he desired.

"Marry me," implored the Romeo.

Rashid looked about for a suitable wife and found one, a desert maiden of fine form and face. The wedding took place with a great do-do. But thereafter, the man changed his ways. He stuck to his tent. He quit displaying his abilities altogether. Lately around his home he sat, and his fellows wondered. "That one day a splendid horse, one of the finest belonging to the tribe got loose. Men started after it, and the animal passed by Romeo's tent."

The pursuers were expending a lot of effort with no result. Pulling and panting, they came upon the newlywed at his tent.

"What shall we do what shall we do?" they shouted as the stallion hooped it swiftly away.

"Marry him," answered the forlorn Romeo, "marry him!"

HEARTENING DEVELOPMENTS IN COKE

The steady increase in the production of coke, particularly at the plants of the H. C. Frick Coke Company and other furnace interests, cannot be viewed as other than concrete proof of the stability of existing industrial activity. This requirements of iron and steel consumers are calling for larger production and that in turn makes demands upon the coke plants.

Except within certain limitations, furnace and steel mills do not make up and pile stocks in anticipation of future demands. In very few industries is the effort quite so constant to keep a safe balance between production and consuming requirements. The rate of furnace and mill operation is directly and wholly gauged by the volume of orders looked. Orders are not placed until demand develops in the lines of manufacture in which iron and steel are essential materials. The activity in manufacturing and construction lines is quickly reflected in the coke trade.

Just now the production of coke by the furnace interests is keeping ahead of requirements for the merchant market, but the latter is growing slowly and within satisfactory limits. The coke trade as a whole is on a sub-normal footing and that such changes as are in prospect will be in the direction of expansion instead of contraction.

The Connellville Region can, therefore, look ahead from the developments in the coke trade and all lines of business dependent upon iron and steel with some feeling of encouragement at the outlook.

THE FIRST ESSENTIAL IN CITY PLANNING

In his address on "City Planning" before the Kiwanis Club Architects (Howard C. Frank) touched upon a phase of the subject which has much to do with the successful inauguration of this method of providing for the systematic development of a municipality with a view to giving it a more pleasing aspect.

In the latest sense city planning is providing for the future and without expectation that those of the present generation will realize the benefits derived therefrom. This fact, as Mr. Frank pointed out, makes it necessary that those who cooperate in working out a city planning scheme and seeing it application must be entirely willing to sacrifice their own personal desires and selfish interests.

In fitting a planning scheme to any existing municipality it will be found that more or less radical changes would have to be made in street lines and would require the setting aside of certain sections for specific uses and purposes, as provided by the zoning laws. This would naturally cause a depreciation in the value of certain properties and by the same token it would enhance the value of others. For owners of the first mentioned class of properties to see the future advantages of such a method would form a test of their public spirit and willingness to which very few would be willing to submit voluntarily. It is, however, one of the conditions a city planning scheme would impose as necessary to its success.

The object of city planning being to provide for the building up of a community in conformity with a well thought out plan designed to insure symmetry, balance and beauty in both old and new structures and additions, exceptions could not be made in one section or in favor of one or more property owners as against other sections or property owners.

Strict adherence to the plan would be absolutely necessary or it would cease to be a plan and become a jumble and confusion, which has been the order in town and city building to this time. For these reasons Mr. Frank did well, at the outset of a discussion of city planning, to emphasize the point that the sacrifice that will be made by citizens in making such a method of city improvement.

No Help from the Constables

After hearing the county constables in their periodic appearance before the court Judge Woodward heard not a single report of violation on the liquor law. The judge thought it strange. In court numerous cases in which liquor figures in crime and in the disruption of domestic relations come under his observation, and it is common knowledge that great quantities of illicit liquor are being manu-

THE MEXICAN REVOLT The Triumvirate Splits

By ALFRED G. E. HART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER II

MEXICO CITY, Mexico (By mail to United Press).—In Mexico a national confidence in a scarce article, while patriotism, as it is understood in the United States, is equally rare. There are patriots here, and they are so few as to exercise only a negligible influence.

An overwhelming majority of the people are illiterate, and among those who are "literate" there are vast numbers who are uneducated. Hence their minds are untrained and reactions common to the brain of even the superficially cultured are foreign to them. This is no fault of theirs. It is attributable to the conspiracy which, for over three centuries, was administered by predatory capitalism to exploit and prostitute the Indian race.

All this in appropos of the circumstance that Sr. De la Huerta eventually found himself in the position where he was the popular candidate of a well-defined class.

Held the Purse-Strings.

Sr. De la Huerta was secretary of the treasury, for he held the purse-strings and distributed the money. I cannot say he did not, but that it had been agreed among Generals Obregon and Calles and Sr. De la Huerta that certain sums should be expended for political organization, designed to further the interests of organized labor and therefore, indirectly, of General Calles and—looking through the spectacles of the administration—of Mexico itself. But when the smug cause, the administration accused Sr. De la Huerta of expending forty millions of pesos not in the interests agreed upon, but in his own. In a word, the administration accused him of double-crossing it and the country.

Sr. De la Huerta had been handing out the money. Now a soldier in Mexico is loyal to his officer, largely because that officer hands him his pay envelope. The Mexican soldier fights for his immediate chief. The price of labor recognizes the personality of his employer. The organized worker listens to his political adviser in the person of his particular "boss" or union. The eyes then of the majority of men in Mexico see no further than the next rung of the ladder.

Sr. De la Huerta was handing out the money. He was handing it to labor leaders, to politicians, to the army, and to half a hundred other classes.

All this underground machinery was, then, operating months before the split.

Calles Resigns.

Presently the time came for General Calles to resign to embark on his campaign for the presidency. This he did, and just about this time Sr. De la Huerta's machinery began to emerge from underground and to become perfectly visible to anybody with half an eye. The public began to wonder who was behind the scenes. They remembered voters that he was "more conservative than General Calles; he was persona grata with the international bankers; he had saved Mexico from financial ruin by arranging the famous 'De la Huerta-Lamont' agreement. He was a friend of the 'oil men' and of capital generally and under his able administration capital would be adequately protected. In spite of this public clamor, Sr. De la Huerta declined to enter the presidential race. He said the public could call for him till they were black in the face.

In the meantime, what was thought to be the Calles bid in the chamber had split on the issue and the De la Huerta deputies organized themselves into one party, and the Calles deputies, the old Conservatives party, the Agrarians and the labor men organized themselves into another, and the fight started for control of the lower house.

Control the Lower House.

Control of the Chamber of Deputies is a matter of the most supreme importance about this time. The party in control elects the permanent committee which functions during the recess. It is on the horizon and would continue until after the general elections in July.

Then—after the elections—the permanent committee would pass upon newly elected deputies and the new house so formed would pass upon the presidential election. You see how important it was for the De la Huerta deputies to secure this control.

Up to the present, De la Huerta continued to declare his determination not to enter the presidential race, but it was patent to every student of the situation that nothing was more certain than that he would, if he could.

He was finding himself unable to gain control of the chamber. What was his next step?

(Tomorrow: Stage two in the De la Huerta plans.)

IN A FACTORY.

What do you see in a factory? Wheels that turn and drive that buzz. Metals twisted in countless ways. What is the end and what is the use? The factory and what is the use? What is this army of men about? Turning in and turning out? It is only a machine that has made it all an evidence of toil.

This is a scene in a factory. A knitter would think he was in a home where the women knit socks. For the loom and the yarn mean a thread of life.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea
If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.
The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is again making a name for itself. It is again used by the thousands to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.
Nowadays though we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product. Improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can detect it. It has been applied simply to the hair with a soft brush, with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair is gone, but what delights the ladies with "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound" is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications it also produces the soft, lustrous and attractive appearance which is so attractive.—Advertisement.

Bringing Up Father.
Of all the family father is apt to be the most careless of a cough or cold and it is the duty of mother or the girls to see that he takes Foley's Honey and Tar Compound at the first sign of a cough, cold or hoarseness. After he once tries it finds out how effective, and pleasant it is to take. He will not hesitate to use it always. Contains no opiates. Safe and sure. This cures three germs: one sold everywhere.—Advertisement.

Performing hourly almost impossible tasks, the company restored Railway Lighting and Power service to the disabled area in a very short time.

Wall Paper

Dear Madam:

We can save you money and annoyance and do first class work for you.

Probably you are already thinking about having some of your rooms redecorated this spring. Thousands of others have this same thought in mind.

Unfortunately, most of them will make final decisions at about the same time. All will wish the work done immediately.

Many of them will suffer because the number of really skilled decorators and wallpaper hangers in this and every other town is limited.

Our workmen will do an honest day's work for you. When working at top speed, these men cannot serve all customers at the peak of the working season. Furthermore decorating and paper-hanging should not be done at "top speed."

Customers who order their decorating done now will get the best results. Time is not at a premium; there is no rush, no overtime in workmen. In short, conditions are conducive to the highest grade of work at the lowest prices.

We will be glad to quote estimates on your work. We can show you a complete line of the finest wall-paper—many of marvellous beauty of design and coloring.

Very truly yours,
M. BERNARDO
